

Let's work together, smarter!

Introducing Pangaea

Pangaea lifts the lid off the process of moving your goods around the world. Pangaea lets you see when your goods are getting picked up, where your goods are in transit, what the hold ups are, when they are scheduled to arrive and confirmation that they have arrived.

At every step of the process, Pangaea provides visibility and with visibility comes certainty.

Pangaea is a purely internet based service that users can access from anywhere that has an internet connection and a web browser.

Pangaea enables Freight Forwarders, Importers, Exporters & Agents to work together collaboratively to ensure the efficient movement of freight from the point of origin through to the delivery destination.

Using PANGAEA helps you save money. Here's how:

1. Plan ahead

Knowing 'actual' lead times of your suppliers, airlines, shipping lines etc allows you to plan your orders. Avoid having the cost of your goods blowout by having to airfreight them in just because someone else slipped up

2. Reduce your inventory

Too much inventory ties up too much money that could otherwise be used for more worthwhile purposes. Pangaea provides you with the information to improve the efficiency of your supply chain and dramatically reduce your inventory the smart way

3. Reduce back orders

Having the right stock on hand means that you can supply your customer's orders in full without having to wait for the next delivery
